What do I have to take into account concerning my statutory accident insurance?

“Students at state universities and universities of applied science that have to complete a mandatory internship before, within, or after their studies according to their study-and examination regulations and voluntary internships that are completed for reasons of expediency are considered.”

For mandatory internships state universities or universities of applied science do not have an impact of the manner in which the internship is completed. During the internship students emerge themselves into the company’s operations procedures and therefore, fulfill the requirements for dependent employees according to §2 Abs.1 Nr. 1 SGB VII.

Consequently, the accident insurance of the company that offers the internship will also be responsible for interns (§133 Abs. 1 SGB VII) no matter if the internship is mandatory or voluntary.”
